

Hate speech is something that has caused great danger not only to society but to the entire humankind.

In today's world, hate speech has grown manifolds and in so many forms especially online hate speech thanks to the growing popularity of social media and fast internet.

I have a friend whose name I don't want to disclose who was beautiful, skillful and very active on issues concerning society. We used to have a lot of discussions.

Once she thought of writing her thoughts on social media. She got appraisal at first but soon she became prey to hate mongers who have nothing to do but only to spread hate, instill fear, etc.

She was so frightened by it that she couldn't even talk to people around her. Everyone had the notion and beliefs as they are the harbingers of the trolling brigades.

I haven't talked to her lately but the experience of online hate speech has torn her apart and of course changed her lifestyle in some ways or another.
